

De-Escalation, Communication & Employee Safety Training

Pandemics, fires, food insecurity; these are just some of the traumas that have impacted students in recent years. This has led to injuries to school personnel due to episodes of anxiety or agitation while working with students. Whether triggered by bullying, frustration with school work or stress at home, these situations can escalate to emotional outbursts and even violence when not addressed appropriately. With teachers and school administrators experiencing assaults more frequently, it's important learn how to de-escalate aggressive student behavior.

This training will educate attendees on an original, highly effective, universal communication system (The Wolfson Formula) to help school staff:

- Maintain their own behavior in stressful and critical situations
- Gain compliance in difficult situations
- Achieve cooperation

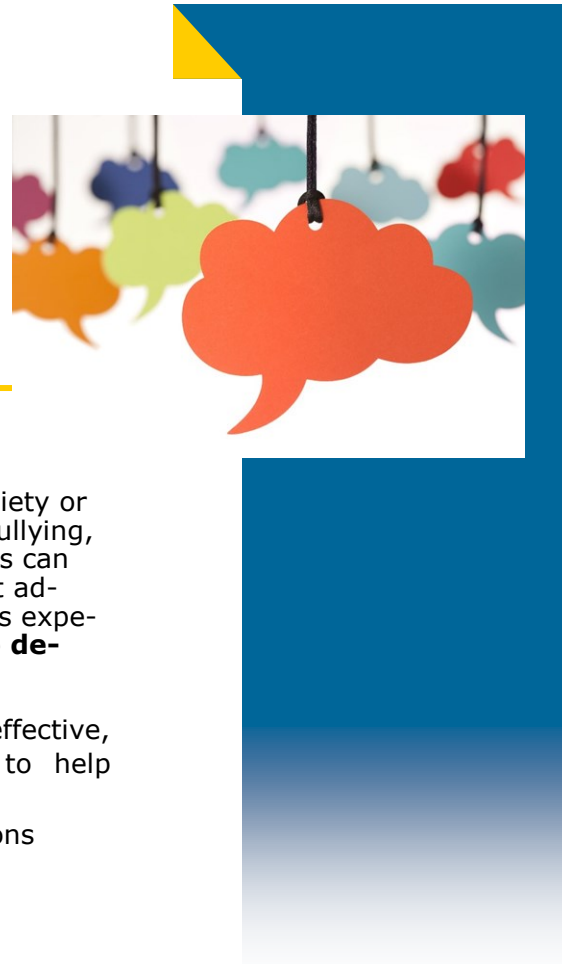

The 4-hour training, provided by subject matter expert consultants from Knowledge Saves Lives Inc., will also include employee safety training to cover valuable topics such as situational awareness for both work and personal life, recognizing warning behavior, and best practices to keep you and your staff prepared for an emergency.

RSVP to Erin Tarkhanian
(include session preference)
etarkhanian@resig.org

presented by

RESIG

April 19, 2022

2 Sessions:

8AM-12PM

Waiting list - morning session is full

1PM-5PM

SCOE Teacher Learning Center

5340 Skylane Blvd, Santa Rosa, 95403